DESIGN-BUILD

End-to-end Services from a Single Source

At EMCOR Services Betlem, we offer single-source design-build solutions—including professional mechanical engineering and project management services—aimed at helping maximize the efficiency and value of your projects.

Your Trusted Partner, from Start to Finish

From estimation and pre-construction to engineering, construction, and post-construction, we can serve as a single point of contact for the entire lifecycle of a design-build project. By taking a hands-on approach, we help ensure customer satisfaction during every phase of a project, promoting on-time and on-budget completion.

Comprehensive Solutions

Expert Engineering, Professional Project Management

We have a team of experienced project engineers and project managers who take a collaborative approach to projects.

Our mechanical engineers will work with you to identify objectives, layout all contract details, provide an all-inclusive cost, and develop a precise project timetable. Our project managers provide transparent, ongoing communication as they oversee the design-build activity from one end of a project to the other.

The Design-Build Advantage

> Continuous control of project costs
> Value engineering with owner input and real-time cost data
> End-to-end project coordination
> Concurrent design and construction promote accelerated schedules
> Knowledge developed in the field helps identify opportunities for innovation
> Familiarity with local building codes helps minimize delays and costs
> One-stop-shop for design, installation, operation, warranty, and service
