Supporting Projects of All Sizes and Complexities

Our BIM capabilities apply to plan-spec, design-assist, and design-build projects. Whether for a large-scale new construction project or for a small renovation, our team can build the integrated graphics and data system necessary to construct a facility through 3D visualization.

We perform these services in-house, but we can also work with outside consultants to produce the required contract documents, with the aim of creating a seamless BIM process.

Improving Collaboration, Maximizing Value

BIM helps improve collaboration with project team members across disciplines by offering integrated graphics and data systems for incredibly detailed 3D visualizations, allowing us to walk through facilities before construction takes place.

BIM and CAD technology helps our team promote constructability, find value-added solutions, develop efficient schedules, avoid bottlenecks, minimize rework, increase prefabrication opportunities, and so much more.

Industry-Leading Tools and Tech

EMCOR Services Betlem has invested in the hardware and software necessary to support our BIM services. We utilize the latest Autodesk software with CAD-MEP, along with the latest PC technology, to create our sheet metal, piping, and plumbing models.

As the utilization of BIM and CAD technologies continues to grow in the market, our team is working to implement the latest developments to keep us at the forefront of the industry.
